ANDREWS SEEKS TO CHECK FLOW OF BEER

FEDERAL SECRET SERVICE MEN IN THE BREWERIES

WILL BE DRY CZAR'S FIRST STEP IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST BEER

ANDREWS' GOAL IS TO MAKE BEER FORGOTTEN DRINK BY CHRISTMAS

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, July 2.—(UP)—Placing of federal secret service operatives in breweries and cereal beverage concerns to check on alcoholic content of beverages produced will be the first step of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews in his campaign against beer.

The sleuths will obtain positions in plants suspected of law violations. All other breweries and beverage manufacturing plants will be inspected regularly to make tax assessments on alcohol produced. Andrews' goal is to make beer a forgotten drink by Christmas.

To bolster up this under cover squad Andrews has appealed to railroads to utilize their secret service organizations to prevent illegitimate movement of liquors. He is negotiating with the American Railway Association to obtain co-operation of railroad police.

"I have been working on plans for six months to stop the flow of beer," Andrews said. "I am now confident that it can be stopped. Under the law the government cannot invade a cereal beverage plant without a search warrant, but we have devised a scheme to make possible the carrying out of the law."

Alcohol produced by plants can be taxed one-tenth of a cent a gallon, Andrews explained. Should a plant produce less than one-half of one per cent alcohol in a beverage, the prohibition unit has statutory authority to check up on the tax.

"That tax assessment will get us into the plants and enable us to see just what is going on," Andrews asserted. "When this machinery is in operation, beer will disappear from the market. You will find a dive somewhere making its own beer and home brew springing up, but the millions of gallons of beer that now flow from breweries and cereal plants will disappear."

Andrews plans to appoint 88 men to the special federal brewery squad this week. These officers will work under Thomas Stone, an experienced internal revenue officer, who has specialized in brewery investigations.

The majority of the new men appointed will be ex-soldiers. The dry czar believes he will get loyal support from men who have served in the government's military organization. He admitted that corruption was spreading among dry agents and that he would select his new aides for secret service with utmost care.

After the brewery and cereal beverage plants are under control, "needle beer" will also vanish, Andrews predicted. While the brewery squad is operating a similar corps will be stopping the leakage of alcohol.

The alcohol squad will prevent millions of gallons of industrial alcohol from reaching the hands of bootleggers and there will be no intoxicating liquid available to shoot into near beer to give it a kick, Andrews believes.

SENATOR NYE'S LEAD AS SOLON IS PILING UP

BOY EDITOR OF NORTH DAKOTA SEEMS ASSURED OF THE NOMINATION

INSURGENT REPUBLICAN HAS A LEAD OF 6,000 OVER L. B. HANNA

Fargo, N. D., July 2.—(UP)—Senator Gerald P. Nye's lead for the republican senatorial nomination was growing today as rural returns were reported in North Dakota's primary election.

The insurgent republican, member of the farm bloc liberals, had a lead of more than 6,000 over his rival, L. B. Hanna, Coolidge republican, with 1,691 precincts out of 2,167 in the state reported.

The vote was: Nye, 64,956; Hanna, 57,265, and C. P. Stone, "light wines and beer" candidate, 8,360.

Nye led by the same ratio in the special election for the remainder of the term of the senate seat he was holding by commission, but the returns were much lighter in this race. Governor A. G. Sorlie, Nonpartisan Leaguer, who appointed Nye to the senate seat, vacated by the death of Senator E. F. Ladd, had a lead of 12,000 over James Hanley, "regular" republican, in 1,571 precincts, and was gaining with every new precinct.

The vote was: Sorlie, 70,181; Hanley, 58,256; James McGovern, "left wing" Nonpartisan League candidate, 2,850.

In every issue the vote in the senatorial race was a defeat for the Coolidge administration and a victory for the liberal, irregular republicans, as represented by Nye.

Besides having been Coolidge's campaign manager in the northwest and credited with having charge of the distribution of federal patronage, Hanna shouldered the burden of defending the administration on farm relief, foreign affairs and the world court.

Nye issued a statement declaring that the vote showed North Dakota "determined to win from the government the same advantages for agriculture which are accorded by the government to other industries."

Sorlie's triumph was a vindication of the state's industrial program of state and city owned enterprises.

ANOTHER MEAT PACKING SCANDAL SEEMS IMMINENT

FEDERAL INDICTMENTS LEVELLED AGAINST THE CHICAGO PACKING COMPANY

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD THE GOVERNMENT

Chicago, July 2.—(UP)—Another meat packing "scandal" was exposed by the federal government today in indictments charging the Chicago Packing Company, two of its officers and a government meat inspector with a conspiracy to defraud the United States.

The indictments name Ignatz Katz, president, and William J. Lake, superintendent of the Chicago Packing Company, and Melvin R. McMahon, a government inspector.

According to the indictment these men conspired to defraud the government out of moneys appropriated by congress for the compensation of owners of cattle, which had been destroyed to prevent the spread of tuberculosis. The conspiracy was carried out, according to the charges, by having the meat inspector make false reports on the condition of cattle. The amount of money involved in the alleged conspiracy, was not mentioned.

Six meat inspectors have been involved in the alleged conspiracy, the indictment set forth, but only McMahon was named.

The indictments were returned by the federal grand jury largely through the testimony of Arch W. Kelso and James A. Sullivan, two meat inspectors, who said they had been approached with offers of bribe, but had turned the matter down.

The charge of conspiracy to offer bribes was contained in the indictments.

An assistant district attorney told the United Press four of the government inspectors had confessed before the grand jury to receiving bribes, which amounted to sums ranging from $20 to $40 a week over a period of about 18 months. What action is to be taken against these men was not disclosed.

The alleged conspiracy it was explained, operated by having the inspectors' falsify report that certain cattle were suffering from tuberculosis and were therefore destroyed. The government then paid the packers a certain compensation whereas in reality the cattle had already been slaughtered and the meat sold.

GAS TANK OF CAR EXPLODES; 3 PEOPLE BURNED

The explosion occurred when Ratner was filling the automobile gas tank which was situated near the motor. A few drops of gas fell on the heated engine and at once burst into flames followed by an explosion.

St. Cloud, July 2.—(UP)—One confession after another from five persons arrested yesterday and today in Watertown, Minneapolis and St. Cloud, cleared up eight robberies in the vicinity of St. Cloud.

Those under arrest are Gus Smith, arrested in Minneapolis; Ed Smith, a brother, arrested in Watertown; Mrs. Gus Smith, arrested in St. Cloud; Mrs. Irwin Oliver, sister of the Smith brothers, arrested in St. Cloud, and Ed Meeks, arrested in St. Cloud, whose wife is a sister of the Smith brothers and Mrs. Oliver.

When the St. Cloud arrests were made, the homes were searched and the loot found in mattresses, police said. They declared Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Oliver admitted their husbands had brought the merchandise into the homes.

The burglaries were at Oak Park, Rice, Fair Haven, Cold Springs and Roscoe, and three other towns north of Brainerd.

The state of Oklahoma is approximately the same size as the cloudburst area of Europe, but the population of Europe is counted by thousands where Oklahoma counts hundreds.

FINDINGS SUBMITTED TO SENATE PRIMARY INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE

LEAGUE'S BOOKS EXAMINED AT WESTERVILLE, OHIO, HEAD-QUARTERS

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Hicklen Yates, official secretary of the committee, offered accounts showing expenditures and receipts of the dry organization since its inception. Contributors of more than $500 and documents showing how expenditures were made. The documents will be made public as soon as the committee inspects them and they are expected to shed much light on national and even international activities of the league.

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, submitted the following accounts of receipts and expenditures for state organizations of the league:

Wisconsin
1920 receipts	$66,670.87
Expenditures	57,886.32
1921 receipts	67,208.02
Expenditures	65,232.44

Expenditures	48,885.00
1925 receipts	34,773.00
Expenditures	34,650.00

Washington, July 2.—The Anti-Saloon League wrote virtually all of the Volstead act, Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League told the senate primary investigating committee today.

In answer to questions by Chairman Reed, the legislative agent of the league told of the methods employed to impress congress with the necessity of enacting the 18th amendment and its celebrated enforcement law.

"Isn't it a fact that you wrote the Volstead act and picked out Representative Volstead as the man to champion the legislation in congress?" Reed asked.

"No, but we consulted with Mr. Volstead frequently," Wheeler said. "Didn't you state that amendments should be adopted to the bill when it was being considered?"

"Only in part."

"But you got all you wanted?"

"Not by a long shot. We had to get corrective changes two years later and we still are after changes."

"So you still are bringing pressure through personally button-holing members of congress to get legislation?"

"Sure, we are here doing everything we can to get proper legislation enacted."

"That's your opinion," said Reed. "Well, if the liquor interests will withdraw from the fight we will withdraw," returned Wheeler.

"The liquor interests were never here until you got here," said Reed. "Oh, no, the record will show different."

"I don't care what the record shows. I have been here 16 years and I know," said Reed. "But I am not defending the liquor interests. I am examining you."

Again Reed asked: "So you say congress would go plumb to the devil if it was not for you and your paid agents?"

"If we did not stay here the Volstead act would be wiped out," said Wheeler.

Wheeler denied that Roy Haines, federal prohibition commissioner, had ever been paid by the Anti-Saloon League.

Hicklen Yates submitted to the committee the record of accounts of the Anti-Saloon League he obtained in inspecting the books at league headquarters, Westerville, O.

They showed $132,581.11 was spent by the national league in 1924; $45,891.10 for headquarters expenses and $9,959.51 by the Westerville office; $15,690.04 for the legislative work and the remainder in loans to

FARMER GORED BY ANGRY BULL, NOW RECOVERING

Winthrop, Minn., July 2.—(UP)—Gored by an angry bull, August Gutknecht, Bismarck township farmer, is recovering today from his injuries.

Gutknecht was opening the gate of a pasture when the animal attacked him, and knocked him to the ground. He was able to reach safety on the other side of the fence. He was so badly hurt that he fell exhausted to the ground.

Three fractured ribs, a badly bruised jaw and minor bruises were suffered by Gutknecht.

DAIRY FARMERS TO GET HIGHER PRICES SHORTLY

NEXT 10 YEARS WILL WITNESS GREATER PROSPERITY FOR THEM

DR. S. G. F. WARREN OF CORNELL ADDRESSES AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF CO-OPERATION

Minneapolis, July 2.—(UP)—The next 10 years will find dairy farmers being paid relatively higher prices for their products than the products of ordinary farmers, Dr. S. G. F. Warren of Cornell University said in a speech before the American Institute of Co-operation which continued its sessions here today.

Dr. Warren, operator of a large experimental dairy farm, said that during past few years dairy prices were higher proportionately and would continue to be higher.

"Of course there may be short periods of comparatively low prices due to industrial depression," he declared, "but as a general rule they will seek the higher levels."

Industrial conditions, the cost of production and the price of butter and cheese are the three factors that influence the dairy market most, the speaker said.

John Brandt, president of the Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., delivered an address to the institute on "Relations Between Co-operatives."

REMORSEFUL BECAUSE HE KILLED HIS WIFE

Huntsville, Ky., July 2.—(UP)—Remorseful because he killed his wife, Russell Patrick Regan has tricked justice. Regan, who was arrested May 20 after shooting his wife to death in their home, yesterday died of a secret hunger strike of more than two weeks. Only a few days ago it was discovered that the man was not eating the food given him. Efforts to force him to eat were futile.

local state organizations which could not support themselves.

The league said Wheeler recommends men for appointment to dry enforcement offices but denied the league "dictated" appointees to dry posts.

"Some senators are hostile and they would recommend men who would be ineffective," Wheeler said. "Gives us the names of those senators," said Reed.

"Well, those from New York, New Jersey and Maryland."

Reed doffed his coat and walked up and down as he examined Wheeler.

"Your organization," he asked, "interferes with appointment of prohibition officers, doesn't it now? Now that's the God Almighty's truth on your oath, isn't it?"

"We interfere where they try to put over crooked men on us," Wheeler replied.

"And you interfere to get your own men appointed, don't you?"

"We try to get good men appointed and keep bad men from being appointed."

Wheeler said no money was spent in the Pennsylvania primary because the organization could not agree on a candidate. He said the league had spent money in the Oregon, Minnesota and Wisconsin primaries.

Wheeler said $200 was sent to Wisconsin some two weeks ago and $150 to Minnesota. He said the money was used to support dry candidates and to defeat the wets,

WM. R. BENNETT TO LECTURE ON 'THE MAN WHO CAN'

"CHIMES OF NORMANDY" PROVES ADMIRABLE CHAUTAUQUA NUMBER

ATTENDANCE AT THE CHAUTAUQUA IS DAILY INCREASING

"The Chimes of Normandy," presented by the Tooley Opera Company last night at the Park Theatre, proved to be the best performance of the Chautauqua so far.

The theatre was again packed with a full assemblage of patrons who showed their appreciation of the art in true operatic fashion by applauding gently.

What aided the play considerably was the artistic settings for the different scenes and the intermingling of vocal selections with conversation in the acting. The actors themselves were well adapted to their parts. The costumes were designed in New York and the settings were painted by Gustav G. Schell.

Spooky situations, the gruesomeness of the money-mad squire, the present day expressions of Grenicheux, the happy-go-lucky fisherman, all added to make the play intensely interesting.

The vocal selections rendered were of the highest quality. In fact, the Tooley Opera Company proved themselves the outstanding attraction of the Chautauqua.

Today is the last day of the Chautauqua. It is estimated that the attendance at all the performances tops the 5,000 mark.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the Goforth's Radio Orchestra, the greatest orchestra on the Chautauqua platform, played to over 600 people.

The program tonight follows: 7:30 P. M. Lecture, "The Man Who Can," Wm. Rainey Bennett. 8:30 P. M. Great Closing Concert—Goforth's Radio Orchestra.

Already plans are being made to organize for next year's Chautauqua performances. Last night over 50 people signed for tickets for the 1927 performances. It is the intention of the local Chautauqua committee to book the very best vaudeville for next year.

Goforth's Orchestra comes to Brainerd with a reputation of being one of the best orchestras on the road.

SAYS AGRICULTURE HAS BRIGHT OUTLOOK

Chicago, July 2.—(UP)—John H. Bunnell, President of the Chicago Board of Trade, in a special article appearing yesterday in The Chicago Daily Journal, says the outlook for agriculture is bright.

Bunnell's article goes into a review of agricultural conditions during the first six months of 1926 and states:

"Improved conditions are reflected in increased sales of machinery and other articles which the farmer must buy. Bank loans have likewise mirrored the same prosperous situation."

The livestock situation, with hogs reaching a new high for the year, during the past few weeks, is particularly encouraging, Bunnell says.

VIEWING BEAUTIES OF YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK

Gardiner, Mont., July 2.—(UP)—Properly outfitted for "roughing it," Crown Prince Adolf and Princess Louise of Sweden are viewing the beauties of Yellowstone National Park today on horseback.

When their royal highnesses reached the Gardiner entrance to the park late Thursday, Prince Adolf's outdoor costume had been completed by the addition of a five gallon felt hat, presented to him at Livingston, Mont., by a group of Crow Indians in war paint and yipping cowboys.

As the guests of Secretary of the Interior Hubert Work, their royal highnesses for the next six days will explore all the wonders of the park, unfettered by formality, which they left behind when they reached Montana.

Raid on the homes of three of those involved today led to the recovery of $1,000 in jewelry, merchandising and other articles, which had been stolen.

Those under arrest are Gus Smith, arrested in Minneapolis; Ed Smith, a brother, arrested in Watertown; Mrs. Gus Smith, arrested in St. Cloud; Mrs. Irwin Oliver, sister of the Smith brothers, arrested in St. Cloud, and Ed Meeks, arrested in St. Cloud, whose wife is a sister of the Smith brothers and Mrs. Oliver.

When the St. Cloud arrests were made, the homes were searched and the loot found in mattresses, police said. They declared Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Oliver admitted their husbands had brought the merchandise into the homes.

The burglaries were at Oak Park, Rice, Fair Haven, Cold Springs and Roscoe, and three other towns north of Brainerd.

BULGARIA STRUCK BY FLOODS, STORMS AND EARTHQUAKES

Sofia, July 2.—(UP)—Floods, lightning storms and earth tremors, the floods accompanied by enormous damage, were reported throughout southern Bulgaria today. The suburbs of Sofia were submerged. Scores of bridges were reported washed out and railroad, telephone and telegraph communication was interrupted.

Reliable information regarding casualties was not obtainable today.

Grain and tobacco crops valued at many thousands of dollars have been ruined in southern Bulgaria.

CLOUDBURST AREA OF EUROPE LARGE ONE

London, July 2.—(UP)—An area roughly 70,000 square miles in Europe was flooded or menaced by floods. The cloudburst area of the past few days covered about that territory.

The damage was enormous. Millions of dollars worth of crops, bridges, railways, factories and houses have been affected. In some places in the Balkans normal business and social life was partly paralyzed.

The state of Oklahoma is approximately the same size as the cloudburst area of Europe, but the population of Europe is counted by thousands where Oklahoma counts hundreds.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE FINANCES ARE INVESTIGATED

FINDINGS SUBMITTED TO SENATE PRIMARY INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE

LEAGUE'S BOOKS EXAMINED AT WESTERVILLE, OHIO, HEAD-QUARTERS

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, July 2.—The financial history of the Anti-Saloon League was submitted to the senate primary investigating committee today by its special accountants who inspected the league's books at Westerville, O., headquarters.

Hicklen Yates, official secretary of the committee, offered accounts showing expenditures and receipts of the dry organization since its inception. Contributors of more than $500 and documents showing how expenditures were made. The documents will be made public as soon as the committee inspects them and they are expected to shed much light on national and even international activities of the league.

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, submitted the following accounts of receipts and expenditures for state organizations of the league:

Wisconsin
1920 receipts	$66,670.87
Expenditures	57,886.32
1921 receipts	67,208.02
Expenditures	65,232.44
1922 receipts	67,293.00
Expenditures	65,064.00
1923 receipts	58,736.00
Expenditures	58,251.00
1924 receipts	49,245.00
Expenditures	48,885.00
1925 receipts	34,773.00
Expenditures	34,650.00

Washington, July 2.—The Anti-Saloon League wrote virtually all of the Volstead act, Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League told the senate primary investigating committee today.

In answer to questions by Chairman Reed, the legislative agent of the league told of the methods employed to impress congress with the necessity of enacting the 18th amendment and its celebrated enforcement law.

"Isn't it a fact that you wrote the Volstead act and picked out Representative Volstead as the man to champion the legislation in congress?" Reed asked.

"No, but we consulted with Mr. Volstead frequently," Wheeler said. "Didn't you state that amendments should be adopted to the bill when it was being considered?"

"Only in part."

"But you got all you wanted?"

"Not by a long shot. We had to get corrective changes two years later and we still are after changes."

"So you still are bringing pressure through personally button-holing members of congress to get legislation?"

"Sure, we are here doing everything we can to get proper legislation enacted."

"That's your opinion," said Reed.

"Well, if the liquor interests will withdraw from the fight we will withdraw," returned Wheeler.

"The liquor interests were never here until you got here," said Reed.

"Oh, no, the record will show different."

"I don't care what the record shows. I have been here 16 years and I know," said Reed. "But I am not defending the liquor interests. I am examining you."

Again Reed asked: "So you say congress would go plumb to the devil if it was not for you and your paid agents?"

"If we did not stay here the Volstead act would be wiped out," said Wheeler.

Wheeler denied that Roy Haines, federal prohibition commissioner, had ever been paid by the Anti-Saloon League.

Hicklen Yates submitted to the committee the record of accounts of the Anti-Saloon League he obtained in inspecting the books at league headquarters, Westerville, O. They showed $132,581.11 was spent by the national league in 1924; $45,891.10 for headquarters expenses and $9,959.51 by the Westerville office; $15,890.04 for the legislative work and the remainder in loans to

FARMER GORED BY ANGRY BULL, NOW RECOVERING

Winthrop, Minn., July 2.—(UP)—Gored by an angry bull, August Gutknecht, Bismarck township farmer, is recovering today from his injuries.

Gutknecht was opening the gate of a pasture when the animal attacked him, and knocked him to the ground. He was able to reach safety on the other side of the fence. He was so badly hurt that he fell exhausted to the ground.

Three fractured ribs, a badly bruised jaw and minor bruises were suffered by Gutknecht.

DAIRY FARMERS TO GET HIGHER PRICES SHORTLY

NEXT 10 YEARS WILL WITNESS GREATER PROSPERITY FOR THEM

DR. S. G. F. WARREN OF CORNELL ADDRESSES AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF CO-OPERATION

Minneapolis, July 2.—(UP)—The next 10 years will find dairy farmers being paid relatively higher prices for their products than the products of ordinary farmers, Dr. S. G. F. Warren of Cornell University said in a speech before the American Institute of Co-operation which continued its sessions here today.

Dr. Warren, operator of a large experimental dairy farm, said that during past few years dairy prices were higher proportionately and would continue to be higher.

"Of course there may be short periods of comparatively low prices due to industrial depression," he declared, "but as a general rule they will seek the higher levels."

Industrial conditions, the cost of production and the price of butter and cheese are the three factors that influence the dairy market most, the speaker said.

John Brandt, president of the Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., delivered an address to the institute on "Relations Between Co-operatives."

REMORSEFUL BECAUSE HE KILLED HIS WIFE

Huntsville, Ky., July 2.—(UP)—Remorseful because he killed his wife, Russell Patrick Regan has tricked justice. Regan, who was arrested May 20 after shooting his wife to death in their home, yesterday died of a secret hunger strike of more than two weeks. Only a few days ago it was discovered that the man was not eating the food given him. Efforts to force him to eat were futile.

local state organizations which could not support themselves.

The league said Wheeler recommends men for appointment to dry enforcement offices but denied the league "dictated" appointees to dry posts.

"Some senators are hostile and they would recommend men who would be ineffective," Wheeler said. "Gives us the names of those senators," said Reed.

"Well, those from New York, New Jersey and Maryland."

Reed doffed his coat and walked up and down as he examined Wheeler.

"Your organization," he asked, "interferes with appointment of prohibition officers, doesn't it now? Now that's the God Almighty's truth on your oath, isn't it?"

"We interfere where they try to put over crooked men on us," Wheeler replied.

"And you interfere to get your own men appointed, don't you?"

"We try to get good men appointed and keep bad men from being appointed."

Wheeler said no money was spent in the Pennsylvania primary because the organization could not agree on a candidate. He said the league had spent money in the Oregon, Minnesota and Wisconsin primaries.

Wheeler said $200 was sent to Wisconsin some two weeks ago and $150 to Minnesota. He said the money was used to support dry candidates and to defeat the wets.

WM. R. BENNETT TO LECTURE ON 'THE MAN WHO CAN'

"CHIMES OF NORMANDY" PROVES ADMIRABLE CHAUTAUQUA NUMBER

ATTENDANCE AT THE CHAUTAUQUA IS DAILY INCREASING

"The Chimes of Normandy," presented by the Tooley Opera Company last night at the Park Theatre, proved to be the best performance of the Chautauqua so far.

The theatre was again packed with a full assemblage of patrons who showed their appreciation of the art in true operatic fashion by applauding gently.

What aided the play considerably was the artistic settings for the different scenes and the intermingling of vocal selections with conversation in the acting. The actors themselves were well adapted to their parts. The costumes were designed in New York and the settings were painted by Gustav G. Schell.

Spooky situations, the gruesomeness of the money-mad squire, the present day expressions of Grentcheux, the happy-go-lucky fisherman, all added to make the play intensely interesting.

The vocal selections rendered were of the highest quality. In fact, the Tooley Opera Company proved themselves the outstanding attraction of the Chautauqua.

Today is the last day of the Chautauqua. It is estimated that the attendance at all the performances tops the 5,000 mark.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the Goforth's Radio Orchestra, the greatest orchestra on the Chautauqua platform, played to over 600 people.

The program tonight follows: 7:30 P. M. Lecture, "The Man Who Can," Wm. Rainey Bennett.

8:30 P. M. Great Closing Concert—Goforth's Radio Orchestra.

Already plans are being made to organize for next year's Chautauqua performances. Last night over 50 people signed for tickets for the 1927 performances. It is the intention of the local Chautauqua committee to book the very best vaudeville for next year.

Goforth's Orchestra comes to Brainerd with a reputation of being one of the best orchestras on the road.

SAYS AGRICULTURE HAS BRIGHT OUTLOOK

Chicago, July 2.—(UP)—John H. Bunnell, President of the Chicago Board of Trade, in a special article appearing yesterday in The Chicago Daily Journal, says the outlook for agriculture is bright.

Bunnell's article goes into a review of agricultural conditions during the first six months of 1926 and states:

"Improved conditions are reflected in increased sales of machinery and other articles which the farmer must buy. Bank loans have likewise mirrored the same prosperous situation."

The livestock situation, with hogs reaching a new high for the year, during the past few weeks, is particularly encouraging, Bunnell says.

SWEDISH ROYALTY "ROUGHING IT"

VIEWING BEAUTIES OF YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK

Gardiner, Mont., July 2.—(UP)—Properly outfitted for "roughing it," Crown Prince Adolf and Princess Louise of Sweden are viewing the beauties of Yellowstone National Park today on horseback.

When their royal highnesses reached the Gardiner entrance to the park late Thursday, Prince Adolf's outdoor costume had been completed by the addition of a five gallon felt hat, presented to him at Livingston, Mont., by a group of Crow Indians in war paint and yipping cowboys.

As the guests of Secretary of the Interior Hubert Work, their royal highnesses for the next six days will explore all the wonders of the park, unfettered by formality, which they left behind when they reached Montana.

Elephants Have Colds

Circus elephants often suffer from colds and the method of treating them is more or less difficult. However, one remedy that seems helpful at least is to make the elephant inhale boiling vinegar, which is done by half filling a bag with vinegar and hanging it over the elephant's trunk so that it has to inhale the fumes whether it wants to or not. The fumes are held to be quite beneficial.

Peculiar Tree Formation

The name "bottle-tree" is applied to trees having trunks resembling bottles. The Australian bottle-tree is the most common. It has a short bottle-like trunk and dense foliage. Natives utilize the tree by making nets of the fibers and by using the sap in the stem as a drink.

Elephants Have Colds

Circus elephants often suffer from colds and the method of treating them is more or less difficult. However, one remedy that seems helpful at least is to make the elephant inhale boiling vinegar, which is done by half filling a bag with vinegar and hanging it over the elephant's trunk so that it has to inhale the fumes whether it wants to or not. The fumes are held to be quite beneficial.

Peculiar Tree Formation

The name "bottle-tree" is applied to trees having trunks resembling bottles. The Australian bottle-tree is the most common. It has a short bottle-like trunk and dense foliage. Natives utilize the tree by making nets of the fibers and by using the sap in the stem as a drink.

AITKIN LIONS RECEIVE CHARTER

Aitkin Den Staged Wonderful Banquet in the Armory

LIONS FROM EIGHT CITIES

Arthur Statt, Minneapolis, Deputy-District Governor, Presented Charter

After a short business session held at the regular meeting place for the purpose of electing new officers 27 members of the Lions club and their ladies departed for Aitkin at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening to assist the newly formed Aitkin Lions club in celebrating the receipt of their official charter.

The Aitkin den staged a wonderful banquet in the armory at which over 200 Lions and Lionesses were served in a very efficient manner by one of the ladies aid organizations of that city.

Delegations of Lions representing Lions clubs of eight cities in the district were in attendance at the banquet and subsequent festivities. During and immediately after the banquet President Lurton of the Aitkin den called upon members of the various clubs for short talks and songs. This invitation was responded to by men from Cloquet, Grand Rapids, Little Falls, Wadena, Minneapolis, Wilmar, Duluth and Brainerd.

Arthur Statt of Minneapolis, Deputy District Governor, then was introduced and proceeded in a very pleasing manner and with a few well chosen remarks to present the official international charter to the Aitkin club. President Lurton of Aitkin responded in his usual clever style and accepted the charter on behalf of the Aitkin membership.

In a short business session held by the Aitkin den just prior to leaving the tables, all the officers who had been acting in a temporary capacity were elected officially to preside over the club for the ensuing fiscal year. After this matter was disposed of the tables and chairs were stored away and the large delegation proceeded to dance until a late hour to the entrancing strains furnished by Lou's band from Brainerd.

This combined charter and ladies night festivity will go down in Lions club history as one of the most enjoyable and perfectly organized functions ever attended by the Brainerd Lions and their ladies and it was voted a perfect success by all who were privileged to attend. The Aitkin boys certainly deserve a world of credit for the manner in which this function was staged.

The tellers appointed by the Brainerd club to tabulate the ballots cast by the cubs before leaving for Aitkin completed their work upon arrival at Aitkin and reported the following cubs elected to guide the destinies of the Brainerd den for the year 1926-27.

Little Visits Around the Rural Section

Written especially for the Dispatch by W. H. Triplett, travelling editor for this paper and The Farmer of St. Paul.

W. H. Triplett

A few weeks ago the writer talked to two sisters who are managing a farm. They are very successful, because they are not afraid of work, they believe in using their heads and also that one is better off on the farm than in the city. While we were talking she handed the writer the following article.

"Do smart people go to town and leave only the dullards on the farm? My answer to this is 'no.' By smart people I mean people who make a profession out of their work, no matter what their work may be, and who plan for the future as well as the present. Also, one who does not leave what can be done today for tomorrow. I have noticed people in our community who make farming a profession to cling to their farms. As a rule only the shiftless people leave their farms, thinking they can make more money in the city. If these same people could see ahead, probably the greater share of them would remain on the farm. I know of one instance where a man who had a family of five children, moved to the city. This man obtained employment at five dollars per day and at the end of the year had nothing saved. They are living today from hand to mouth. This man when he left the farm could see only the bright side of city life. He did not stop to think of house rent, electric, gas, and water bills and other necessities of city life. This family has been very fortunate so far as they are all in fair health. If sickness should overtake the father, they would be at the hands of the city for support. One has to be a very poor farmer who lives from hand to mouth; at any rate, they are not as a rule on the hands of the city or township for support if sickness does overtake them. A great many people say that there is no money in farming but I am of the contrary opinion, having lived all my life on the farm with the exception of a few years when I attended high school. A year ago my father died, leaving my mother who is an invalid, my sister and myself to look after the 160 acre farm. This year we did diversified farming. We hired men to help with the work. Our net income after paying these men was $3,500. There is money in farming for the one who will work. From personal experience, I have found the pencil to be the farmer's best tool. Farming is the only real independent life, but to make a success of it, one must use his brains as well as his hands."

This is all very true and those who are dissatisfied with farm life, should stop and think it over. Carl Wheeler had gone to town when we called this morning but we had an interesting visit with Mrs. Wheeler, Sr., and Mrs. Wheeler, Jr. The former says that they have farmed 320 acres for the last 27 years, seven acres of which are into alfalfa, which is the ideal dairy feed. They are milking 22 cows and within a few years will have a high grade Guernsey herd. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Wheeler are making their home with Clinton's father, until they have made definite plans for the future. Mrs. Wheeler is strong in the poultry industry having over 300 little chicks and more coming off. H. D. Sutton says we are not going to get a bumper crop but will get at least a half a crop which is better than nothing, so what's the use of worrying. He seeded alfalfa this spring but due to the dry weather it failed to catch, but he plans on planting more next spring. He has farmed 80 acres for the past six years.

A new barn 34 by 50 is being built on Pete Mustonen's farm. This will enable him to take better care of his Ayrshire cows, of which he is milking 12. He has seven acres of alfalfa, which was being put into the barn yesterday, and which was of very good quality. He has lived in the community for the past 27 years and has seen some radical changes take place during that time.

C. C. Sutton was just getting ready to go to town but the old Lizzie failed to make any move toward starting. But within a few minutes the writer and Mrs. Sutton had Miss Lizzie running on all four. Mr. Sutton formerly lived in Minneapolis, and worked as an electrician, but due to the poor health of his wife he moved out on his farm in 1910, and now has a very modern cozy home. Mrs. Hollander and daughter Dorothy from Minneapolis are making an extended visit with Mrs. Hollander's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sutton.

Walter Eschenbacher was preparing to make fence, which is usually a rainy day job, but if we waited for a rain this year the fence would probably go unfixed. He seeds 10 acres of clover annually, which builds up the soil as well as increases the crop yield. He is milking 13 cows and has a purebred Guernsey sire at the head of his herd.

TOURIST TRAFFIC HEAVY

Weather at Brainerd Predicted to be Continued Warm

Regular Fourth of July weather is predicted all over the state for the week end and holiday and thousands of tourists are expected to take refuge from the heat of the cities in this district.

The tourist traffic today has been unusually heavy, the tourists being driven north to the lake region by the heat of the past week.

The weather at Brainerd tomorrow is predicted to be continued warm weather, partly cloudy.

JAR OF LIQUOR PROVED EXPENSIVE

Fergus Falls, Minn., July 2.—(UP)—A jar of liquor he took from his hip pocket and secreted behind a garage resulted in John B. Thompson being found guilty of transporting liquor by a jury here today. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $150.

Thompson was arrested in Battle Lake on a charge of trespass made by a neighbor, but before he was taken to jail, stepped aside and hid the liquor, which was found later.

15 YEAR OLD BOY ARRESTED BY DRY AGENTS

St. Paul, July 2.—(UP)—A 15-year old boy for the second time has been arrested by federal prohibition agents and is in jail today.

When the dry agents broke down the door of a garage they found Eugene Folling, 15, calmly sitting inside and recognized him as the same youth they captured in seizing a truck load of alcohol a month ago. A 500 gallon high pressure still was found in one part of the garage and a large quantity of alcohol in another. The alcohol was so powerful that a few drops that splashed on the shoe of one of the agents burned through the leather.

Robins Stand on Rights
The robin has lived so long in the company of man that you will seldom find it far from a human dwelling. In the suburbs of towns one pair of birds will have three or four gardens which they look upon as their own preserve, and if another robin attempts to enter their domain a fight takes place. The stranger is often driven away, but sometimes the newcomer is victorious, and then the first pair have to seek fresh grounds.

Pointers on Reading
Doctor Johnson's advice is sound: "A man ought to read just as inclination leads him, for what he reads as a task will do him little good." Yet one should not dread occasional boredom; they sheer one off to the right channel. Rejection is a great part of reading.—John o' London.

Abstraction
Uncle Hans was terribly absent-minded. One evening he sat knocking out his pipe, and presently was heard to exclaim: "Come in!"

Widow Sought To Exhume Husband To Regain Diamond Teeth

Chicago, July 2.—(UP)—The two sparkling diamonds in the teeth of "Fighting Bob" Fitzsimmons, who is buried here in Roseland cemetery, will remain untouched.

Corporation Counsel Busch has recommended that no action be taken for the present on the request of Mrs. Fitzsimmons, widow of the former champion, to exhume the body of her dead husband and remove the diamonds from his teeth.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons appealed to Police Chief Collins last Saturday for permission to disinter the body, explaining that she needed the money the sale of the diamonds would bring.

Busch indicated that he may consider the request again at a later date. Disinterment of a body requires a permit from the health department.

Little Visits Around the Rural Section

Written especially for the Dispatch by W. H. Triplett, travelling editor for this paper and The Farmer of St. Paul.

A few weeks ago the writer talked to two sisters who are managing a farm. They are very successful, because they are not afraid of work, they believe in using their heads and also that one is better off on the farm than in the city. While we were talking she handed the writer the following article.

"Do smart people go to town and leave only the dullards on the farm? My answer to this is 'no.' By smart people I mean people who make a profession out of their work, no matter what their work may be, and who plan for the future as well as the present. Also, one who does not leave what can be done today for tomorrow. I have noticed people in our community who make farming a profession to cling to their farms. As a rule only the shiftless people leave their farms, thinking they can make more money in the city. If these same people could see ahead, probably the greater share of them would remain on the farm. I know of one instance where a man who had a family of five children, moved to the city. This man obtained employment at five dollars per day and at the end of the year had nothing saved. They are living today from hand to mouth. This man when he left the farm could see only the bright side of city life. He did not stop to think of house rent, electric, gas, and water bills and other necessities of city life. This family has been very fortunate so far as they are all in fair health. If sickness should overtake the father, they would be at the hands of the city for support. One has to be a very poor farmer who lives from hand to mouth; at any rate, they are not as a rule on the hands of the city or township for support if sickness should overtake them. A great many people say that there is no money in farming but I am of the contrary opinion, having lived all my life on the farm with the exception of a few years when I attended high school. A year ago my father died, leaving my mother who is an invalid, my sister and myself to look after the 160 acre farm. This year we did diversified farming. We hired men to help with the work. Our net income after paying these men was $3,500. There is money in farming for the one who will work. From personal experience, I have found the pencil to be the farmer's best tool. Farming is the only real independent life, but to make a success of it, one must use his brains as well as his hands."

This is all very true and those who are dissatisfied with farm life, should stop and think it over. Carl Wheeler had gone to town when we called this morning but we had an interesting visit with Mrs. Wheeler, Sr., and Mrs. Wheeler, Jr. The former says that they have farmed 320 acres for the last 27 years, seven acres of which are into alfalfa, which is the ideal dairy feed. They are milking 22 cows and within a few years will have a high grade Guernsey herd. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Wheeler are making their home with Clinton's father, until they have made definite plans for the future. Mrs. Wheeler is strong in the poultry industry having over 300 little chicks and more coming off.

H. D. Sutton says we are not going to get a bumper crop but will get at least a half a crop which is better than nothing, so what's the use of worrying. He seeded alfalfa this spring but due to the dry weather it failed to catch, but he plans on planting more next spring. He has farmed 80 acres for the past six years.

A new barn 34 by 50 is being built on Pete Mustonen's farm. This will enable him to take better care of his Ayrshire cows, of which he is milking 12. He has seven acres of alfalfa, which was being put into the barn yesterday, and which was of very good quality. He has lived in the community for the past 27 years and has seen some radical changes take place during that time.

C. C. Sutton was just getting ready to go to town but the old Lizzie failed to make any move toward starting. But within a few minutes the writer and Mrs. Sutton had Miss Lizzie running on all four. Mr. Sutton formerly lived in Minneapolis, and worked as an electrician, but due to the poor health of his wife he moved out on his farm in 1910, and now has a very modern cozy home. Mrs. Hollander and daughter Dorothy from Minneapolis are making an extended visit with Mrs. Hollander's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sutton.

Walter Eschenbacher was preparing to make fence, which is usually a rainy day job, but if we waited for a rain this year the fence would probably go unfixed. He seeds 10 acres of clover annually, which builds up the soil as well as increases the crop yield. He is milking 13 cows and has a purebred Guernsey sire at the head of his herd.

It was sent to the senate immediately where it was expected to be adopted today. The resolution was received in the senate shortly after 2 p. m. and was referred to the appropriations committee. A meeting was held immediately so the resolution may be reported before adjournment tonight.

Washington, July 2.—(UP)—A general debate over merits of direct primaries developed yesterday in the senate after Senator Neely, democrat, West Virginia, had condemned huge expenditures in the Pennsylvania primary and had declared, in effect, that Rep. William Vare, senatorial candidate in Pennsylvania, was not entitled to hold office.

"What happened in Pennsylvania," Reed, republican of that state, said, "was due to the abominable direct primary system."

Senators Borah, republican, Idaho; Neely, and Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota, defended the system.

"An election could be bought cheaper in a convention than in a primary," said Shipstead.

JAR OF LIQUOR PROVED EXPENSIVE

Fergus Falls, Minn., July 2.—(UP)—A jar of liquor he took from his hip pocket and secreted behind a garage resulted in John B. Thompson being found guilty of transporting liquor by a jury here today. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $150.

Thompson was arrested in Battle Lake on a charge of trespass made by a neighbor, but before he was taken to jail, stepped aside and hid the liquor, which was found later.

15 YEAR OLD BOY ARRESTED BY DRY AGENTS

St. Paul, July 2.—(UP)—A 15-year old boy for the second time has been arrested by federal prohibition agents and is in jail today.

When the dry agents broke down the door of a garage they found Eugene Folling, 15, calmly sitting inside and recognized him as the same youth they captured in seizing a truck load of alcohol a month ago.

A 500 gallon high pressure still was found in one part of the garage and a large quantity of alcohol in another. The alcohol was so powerful that a few drops that splashed on the shoe of one of the agents burned through the leather.

Robins Stand on Rights

The robin has lived so long in the company of man that you will seldom find it far from a human dwelling. In the suburbs of towns one pair of birds will have three or four gardens which they look upon as their own preserve, and if another robin attempts to enter their domain a fight takes place. The stranger is often driven away, but sometimes the newcomer is victorious, and then the first pair have to seek fresh grounds.

Madison, Wis., July 2.—(UP)—Notice has been served upon the receivers of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad demanding they proceed immediately with work of eliminating danger and inconvenience arising from grade crossings in Milwaukee, Attorney General Herman L. Ekern announced yesterday.

Widow Sought To Exhume Husband To Regain Diamond Teeth

Chicago, July 2.—(UP)—The two sparkling diamonds in the teeth of "Fighting Bob" Fitzsimmons, who is buried here in Roseland cemetery, will remain untouched.

Corporation Counsel Busch has recommended that no action be taken for the present on the request of Mrs. Fitzsimmons, widow of the former champion, to exhume the body of her dead husband and remove the diamonds from his teeth.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons appealed to Police Chief Collins last Saturday for permission to disinter the body, explaining that she needed the money the sale of the diamonds would bring.

Busch indicated that he may consider the request again at a later date. Disinterment of a body requires a permit from the health department.

FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1926

SURVEY OF WATERS OF UPPER MISSISSIPPI RIVER

As a necessary adjunct to securing adequate water levels in northern Minnesota, is the matter of a survey of the waters of the upper Mississippi river. Commissioner of Game and Fish James F. Gould is working to bring this about. Everyone, even a person with but a superficial knowledge of the subject, knows that water is the prime essential of a lake country. Keeping a good head of water in the reservoir country serves to preserve fish and game life, prevents sloughs and channels from becoming dry and filling with vegetation, preserves the lake shore line of a summer resort or cottager. If all the water of northern Minnesota is to be drained off, if the wishes of the water power and navigation interests are to be satisfied fully without any consideration of resort owners and cottagers who have now acquired interests in this lake country, then it's not a square deal for the resort population and the farmers as well who may be farming on lake lands.

Well, here is what Mr. Gould has been doing, as evidenced by letters written, copies of which have been received by THE BRAINERD DISPATCH.

In a communication to the Chief of the Army Engineers, U. S. War Department, Washington, D. C., Mr. Gould, under date of June 30, says:

Subject: Proposed Survey Waters of Upper Mississippi River.
Dear Sir:

For your information I enclose herewith copy of my letter this date to Hon. Harold Knutson, Member of Congress and Hon. Henry O'Mally, Commissioner, U. S. Bureau of Fisheries.

Will you please be kind enough to advise me when your Department contemplates starting the survey in question? I am sincerely hoping that you may be able to start same at a very early date and push same to completion during the present summer and coming fall months so that your department as well as the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries and my Department, may be able to present construction and intelligent reports and recommendations to Congress when it reconvenes next winter.

If this Department can be of any service whatever to the representatives of your department in the making of the survey, needless to say, we will be both willing and anxious to help you in any way possible and while as I understand the matter, Congress did not look with favor upon the making of a joint survey by the War Department, Bureau of Fisheries and the Game and Fish Department of the State of Minnesota, I see no reason why we could not work to mutual advantage in the prosecution thereof along co-operative lines.

Please let me hear from you at your earliest convenience and greatly oblige.

Commissioner Gould wrote as follows to Congressman Harold Knutson, under date of June 30:

Dear Harold:
Will you please advise me whether or not the Rivers and Harbors Bill has passed both Houses of Congress and if so, just when the Chief of Army Engineers contemplates starting the survey of the Upper Mississippi River?

I sincerely hope that their survey may be started during the month of July and prosecuted to completion during the present summer and coming fall months and with this idea in mind I am today writing the Hon. Henry O'Mally, Commissioner, U. S. Bureau of Fisheries, also Dr. Surber, our Department Biologist, requesting each of them to make arrangements to make a joint survey beginning immediately. As I understand the matter, while the survey would be made by the War Department independent of that made by the Bureau of Fisheries, and the Game and Fish Department of Minnesota, theoretically the survey can be made jointly and I sincerely hope this is the case.

Anything you may be able to do to bring about a development of this kind and the starting of the survey at the earliest possible moment, will be greatly appreciated. Will you please look into the matter just as soon as you can conveniently to do and let me hear from you? Yours very truly,

Commissioner Gould wrote as follows to Hon. Henry O'Mally, Commissioner, U. S. Bureau of Fisheries, Washington, D. C., under date of June 30:

I have today written the Hon. Harold Knutson, Member of Congress, Washington, as per copy attached, which to a great extent will prove self-explanatory.

I believe you are aware of the conditions prevailing due to low water level in the Upper Mississippi River and its adverse affect on game and fish life and presume you are also familiar with the construction some years ago by the War Department of a series of so-called flood control dams in the headwaters of the Mississippi and the maintenance thereof for the benefit of navigation and water power interests and since that time absolutely no attention whatever has been paid to game and fish. Some weeks ago your representative, Captain Culler of Winona, attended a conference in my office and I presume you have by this time received his report thereon, and my hope is that your Bureau may find it possible to immediately detail at least two men to make a survey with two or more men representing the Game and Fish Department of Minnesota, of the conditions explained of and what can or must be done to relieve the same. Will you please be kind enough to analyze the situation just as soon as possible and let me hear from you as to about when you can start the survey so that we may make arrangements for our crew and possibly facilitate to some extent the work with your representatives?

If any further information is desired on the subject please feel free to call upon me.

What is news, anyway

That depends a good deal on you. If you're one type of person, news is divorces, and murders, and heir-to-millions-hangs-self. If you're another type, news is closing quotations on the stock exchange. If you're somebody else, news is final scores at the ball-field or race-track.

But no matter what type of person you are, news is also information about the things you need and use in your every-day life. If there's a new style coat or shoes or gloves—that's news. 60% JUNE Sales Gain over greatest previous Nash June

Rounding into the last month of the half year period Nash sales and production raced thru June to pile up a 60% lead OVER the greatest previous volume of June business in all Nash history.

And this record-breaking total also made June 1926, the 22nd consecutive month—with one exception—to surpass the mark set by the same month of the previous year.

The reason Nash is getting the business is simply because people are buying where they get the MOST for the money—in greater VALUE, in greater QUALITY, and in finer PERFORMANCE.

What is news, anyway

That depends a good deal on you. If you're one type of person, news is divorces, and murders, and heir-to-millions-hangs-self. If you're another type, news is closing quotations on the stock exchange. If you're somebody else, news is final scores at the ball-field or race-track.

But no matter what type of person you are, news is also information about the things you need and use in your every-day life. If there's a new style coat or shoes or gloves—that's news. If there's a new type of vacuum cleaner or radio battery or vitamin—that's news. If there are improvements in automobiles, new records for the player piano, a better toothpaste—that's news.

You get all this news in the shape of advertisements. It's pretty important, advertising is. It keeps you informed about all kinds of things you need to know. It helps you. It saves you time and mistakes.

MILLIONAIRE NEW YORK
COLLECTOR

Detroit, Mich., July 2.—(UP)—Members of an "art bandit gang," said to be led by a millionaire New York collector were sought today following arrest of three men here and recovery of the $75,000 Ford Persian rug, which was stolen early yesterday from the Detroit institute of arts.

The men under arrest are Paxton Howard, debonnaire, 29 year old advertising writer, who has confessed, Solomon Cohen, 59 year old attorney, and William Tahacheray, 22 years old, of Highland Park, Mich.

Recovery of the rug in a suit case at Michigan Central station, followed arrest of Howard at his bachelor quarters in Webster Hall. He was traced by means of a cleaner's mark on a pair of gloves he had discarded at the scene of the robbery. Following his confession he produced two baggage checks and nonchalantly led the way to the station.

St. Paul, July 2.—(UP)—Word from a Cresco, Ia., bank regarding the account of John Montague, 70, who was rescued recently from a self enforced hermitage of nine years, was awaited with interest.

Mrs. Mary Evans of Dallas, Tex., who said she was a daughter of Montague, wrote St. Paul authorities, offering to take Montague into her home and mentioning $2,500 she said her father had on deposit at Cresco one year ago. She inclosed letters from two Cresco men regarding the bank account.

The letters were turned over to Dr. B. F. Simon, city health officer, who started a new investigation of why Montague had shut himself out from the world to live in poverty and without sufficient food.

A Genuine Big Brother

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

(Copyright.)

IT NEARLY broke Nell's heart when she knew she must part with her no-longer-small brother Tommy. The lad had grown into a fine, sturdy stripling, eager to take advantage of the opportunity offered by the Australian government to get out to farming in that vast country. The Big Brother movement, in which good citizens of Australia each promise to take charge of one boy and watch and care for his development, seemed a splendid chance for many British boys.

"You see, Sis, it will give you a chance to go to the States and make more money—I'm a big fellow for you to try to feed on your small salary."

Nell forced back the tears that would have upset Tommy and a tiny smile appeared instead.

"It's only that I dislike having you so terribly far away from me. I know it is a fine chance for you and if you just get a nice Big Brother who will care for you as I have—I won't seem so hard."

"And if you take that good position in New York you can save up enough money to come out and see me and before you know it I will be supporting you—instead of you me. It is a bit rough being so far away." And because Tommy was too big to cry on Nell's shoulder, as he had for many childish years, he put hands in pockets and whistled a tune.

"We'll go down to Australia House tomorrow and see the high commissioner and before you know it you will be starting on a great adventure," said Nell, trying to keep up her courage. "I wish I were a boy, too, and then they would have me also."

On the morrow they went down and had a long talk with the very able young man who was making the selection of boys. Mr. Landon wished there were more wholesome, sturdy lads of Tommy's type to go out and learn agriculture.

"When you reach your majority, Tommy," he told the boy, "the Big Brother will help you to acquire a bit of land of your own."

"Then Sis can come out and keep house for me," planned Tommy, and Landon and Nell exchanged glances.

"I have a pal in Australia, Miss Reed," he told her, "to whom I would like to trust Tommy. Jack Colebrook is an American who went out some twelve years ago and has made good—more than good. There would be no doubt about your brother's mental, moral and physical well-being if old Colebrook takes him in charge."

"Oh—if you only would plan that—I think I could be almost reconciled to letting Tommy go."

Everything being arranged, the newly selected Little Brother and his sister went out to the Strand and home-ward. Tommy was in a fever of excitement, which remained with him until he embarked, some six weeks later.

After Tommy had gone Nell swiftly made her arrangements to sail to the land she had always wanted to see. Her position took her to Chicago, and before many months had passed she felt as much at home and was as kindly treated as any born American. Her work brought her in five times as much as she had ever got in her own land.

Letters from Tommy were hugely interesting and from time to time he sent snapshots of himself as a young farmer.

"My Big Brother, Jack Colebrook," he wrote almost at the start, "treats me like a real man and is no end of a fine chap. I showed him that picture of you—the one taken in the punt that Sunday up the Thames—and he hasn't returned it yet. Fancy he must have forgotten it!"

But Jack Colebrook hadn't forgotten the picture of Nell at all. In fact it was on his shaving stand and there was many a time when, gazing at it admiringly, he had come near cutting his own face.

He questioned Tommy about Nell's hair, her eyes, whether she was married, or engaged, and whether he thought she would fancy Australia.

To all of these questions Tommy replied with brotherly disregard of flattery. Colebrook, however, gazed the more intently at Nell's photograph and decided that he really must write a long weekly budget to her.

"It is my duty," he told Tommy, "to let your sister know all that we are doing here and just how you are progressing."

"I can't tell you how Nell would appreciate it," said unsuspecting Tommy. And Nell did enjoy those letters that came with increasing bulk and regularity—once they had been answered. Chicago had taken on a new beauty and her work greater comfort. In fact all things in the world assumed charm, and well, for the first time in her life, followed the shipping column of the paper, always with the hope that the mails from Australia might be a day earlier.

A photograph of a fine, big man beside her brother Tommy stood always now on her desk and drew many a glance during a busy day. In other words, Nell had fallen in love with Tommy's Big Brother.

"Tommy," said Colebrook, "do you think you could carry on here for a few months while I slip over to the States and bring back that sister of yours? I have finally persuaded her that we can't get along without her—what do you say, Little Brother?"

"I'll say the same," laughed Tommy, "and that you'll soon be my brother-in-law—Big Brother."

Aviators Need Horses

Sweden's military aviators, who in the reorganization of the national defense have replaced the once famous Swedish cavalry as an independent arm, still ask for the use of horses as part of their equipment. In a letter to the war minister, their chief, Col. Carl Amundson, points out that while other branches of the service got physical exercise during the discharge of their routine duties, the air pilots must have special training to keep their nerves and muscles in top-notch condition and that for this purpose horseback riding has been found unsurpassed.

Policy Has Worked Well

Several years ago the California state division of motor vehicles adopted a policy of refunding motorists excess fees sent in for licenses where such excess amounted to 11 cents or more. Sums under that amount were turned into the road fund. Similarly, if the motorist was short 11 cents or more, the division demanded that he make it up without bothering the absent-minded motorist. A check recently made revealed that the "lions" have so far exceeded the "shorts" that the state is more than $800 to the good.

Freezes Flames!

A fire extinguisher has been invented for use in petrol storehouses, oil tankers and other structures containing inflammable substances.

Directed upon a blaze, these devices actually freeze the flames to death. It is claimed. A very cold and dense carbon dioxide gas is released so that all oxygen is blocked and the fire, with no oxygen to feed on, dies out. This, no matter how combustible the material burning may be.

During the test even a burning oil can was extinguished.

Back to Barley Bread

Distilleries are using less barley in Scotland, and the farmers face the problem of disposing of their crops. Why not return to barley scones and barley bread, an agreeable change from wheat loaf? This would relieve John Barleycorn of part of his burden, suggests the Christian Science Monitor.

STEEL RAILS HAVE HIT ROMANCE HARD

Recalling Halcyon Days of the Missouri.

For a score of years many thousands of hardy men had dared the dangers of the plains and round-the-Cape voyaging to reach the Pacific and find gold. Many thousands responded to the Pike's peak discoveries and filled the canyons and gulches of what is now Colorado. Settlements were well established from Canada to Mexico on the Pacific coast. Nevada was invaded by gold-hunters. All this was before the rich placer diggings in Montana, far more easily accessible, were discovered.

The miners in the Northwest worked from the coast east. Idaho was exploited before Alder Gulch blazed in fame. The Civil war smothered all commerce on the lower Missouri. Up to 1864 only six steamboats arrived at lonely Fort Benton. Seventy such craft arrived during 1866-67. During the latter year there were from thirty to forty steamboats plying between Fort Benton and the mouth of the Yellowstone. On May 29, 1866, the Deer Lodge left Benton and on her way down met thirty-three boats bound up river. In this year twelve cents a pound was the general freight rate. Cabin passengers paid $300 fare. The captain received $200 a month.

His clerk $150. Mate and engineer each drew down $125. And the pilot named his own figure and often received the astounding salary of $1,200 a month. Those were the halcyon days on the Missouri, but let no one think steamboat travel was fast and safe. Perils began in the lower river. The Sam Gaty was boarded by Hicks' guerrilla band under the high wooded bank near Sibley, Mo. Some negroes and paroled Union soldiers were taken ashore and shot. All aboard were robbed. In the upper river the Indians fired on the boats. The pilot-house was protected by iron plates and the boats anchored in midstream. No gold rush contained exactly the same elements of danger as that to the Montana fields, and there is enough of romance, adventure and violence to fill innumerable volumes. The commercial glory of the river was doomed when the railroads reached Ogden—Union Pacific, 1869—and Bismarck—Northern Pacific, 1872—and Montana itself—the Utah Northern, 1880—and then the death-blow in 1887 when the Great Northern reached Helena.—Famouse Rochester in Adventure Magazine.

the Missouri.

For a score of years many thousand of hardy men had dared the dangers of the plains and round-the-Cape voyaging to reach the Pacific and find gold. Many thousands responded to the Pike's peak discoveries and filled the canyons and gulches of what is now Colorado. Settlements were well established from Canada to Mexico on the Pacific coast. Nevada was invaded by gold-hunters. All this was before the rich placer diggings in Montana, far more easily accessible, were discovered.

The miners in the Northwest worked from the coast east, Idaho was exploited before Alder Gulch blazed into fame. The Civil war smothered all commerce on the lower Missouri. Up to 1864 only six steamboats arrived at lonely Fort Benton. Seventy such craft arrived during 1865-67. During the latter year there were from thirty to forty steamboats plying between Fort Benton and the mouth of the Yellowstone. On May 29, 1866, the Deer Lodge left Benton and on her way down met thirty-three boats bound up river. In this year twelve cents a pound was the general freight rate. Cabin passengers paid $300 fare. The captain received $200 a month.

His clerk $150. Mate and engineer each drew down $125. And the pilot named his own figure and often received the astounding salary of $1,200 a month. Those were the halcyon days on the Missouri, but let no one think steamboat travel was fast and safe. Perils began in the lower river. The Sam Gaty was boarded by Hicks' guerrilla band under the high wooded bank near Sibley, Mo. Some negroes and paroled Union soldiers were taken ashore and shot. All aboard were robbed. In the upper river the Indians fired on the boats. The pilot-house was protected by iron plates and the boats anchored in midstream. No gold rush contained exactly the same elements of danger as that to the Montana fields, and there is enough of romance, adventure and violence to fill innumerable volumes. The commercial glory of the river was doomed when the railroads reached Ogden—Union Pacific, 1869—and Bismarck—Northern Pacific, 1872—and Montana itself—the Utah Northern, 1880—and then the death-blow in 1887 when the Great Northern reached Helena—Faucon Rochester in Adventure Magazine.

MIKE McTIGUE WEATHERS RISKO BLOWS

EXPERIENCE WINS IN CONTEST WITH FLAMING YOUTH

IRISH BOXER SUCCESSFUL BECAUSE HE DIDN'T MATCH PUNCHES WITH RISKO

LATTER TRIED TO BORE IN AND SLASH WITH HIS LEFT HAND

By PAUL W. WHITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 2.—Youth is yet to be served in instance of Johnny Risko and Mike McTigue.

McTigue, the one time light heavyweight champion of the world, his face seamy and his muscles a little stiff, demonstrated the theory of the school that believes experience can win over a young, fighting heart by taking a 10-round decision from the slugging, flaming Cleveland youngster last night.

The Irish boxer was successful because he refused to match punches with Risko, who was always boring in, slashing away with his left hand. While the tactics of the former champion did not make the bout much of a spectacle as far as the small house was concerned, it served to check the downward trend of the career, which flamed with a questionable victory over Battling Siki.

In the main Mike kept a safe distance from the Cleveland and managed to take most of the swings tossed at him on his glove. He stepped in on a few occasions and with little difficulty chopped Johnny with a right or left. In the second round, after Risko had made an impressive showing in the opener, wily Mike snapped a right to Risko's head and followed with four stinging blows to the face.

Again in the fifth the Irishman let himself go and slowed up the rushing Cleveland youth with well placed punches to the face.

McTigue rallied again, raining blows on his willing opponent. The only other interesting action came in the 10th when the two stood toe to toe and had a rapid but harmless exchange for a few seconds.

With all of the fists which were flying in the 10 rounds, not one landed hard enough to really affect either boxer. Both came out of the match without a mark to show for the evening's work.

While McTigue was toddling toward a comeback, on the same fight card was Monte Munn, a youth from Omaha, with a record of knockouts. He added another to the list last night by flopping Jack Shaw, an inexperienced marine, in the third round.

The players making the trip will be Norman and Kline, catchers; Michaud, Posten and Zakariassen, pitchers; Nason, first base; Peterson, second base; Ware, third base; Uddenberg, short stop, and Thon. BOBBY JONES SAILING HOME

BEDECKED WITH MEDALS AND BEARING TROPHIES FROM EUROPE

New York, July 2.—(UP)—Bobby Jones comes sailing home today from the golf wars of Europe, bedecked with medals and bearing trophies.

Some time this afternoon the boat carrying the new British open golf champion will arrive at quarantine and from then until Bobby leaves next week for the American open at Columbus, he will be feted by admiring home folks from Atlanta and proud citizens of New York.

Headed by Mayor John S. Cohen, publisher of the Atlanta Journal, a contingent of the home folks went out on the Revenue Cutter Macon this morning to greet the returning hero and escort him and his medals to the Battery, where the official welcoming ceremony will open.

Through the streets along which another public hero, Lieutenant Richard E. Byrd, swung a few days ago in a similar celebration, Jones will be escorted to the city hall for the popular pastime of meeting the mayor and getting his copy of the key to the city. Mayor Walker will make a speech and then the new golf king will be surrendered to his home folks and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Jones and his wife.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Bob Smith, Boston pitcher, who held the Phillies to five scattered hits. The Braves' 3 to 1 victory put them in a tie for seventh place.

The Yanks and Senators broke even in a doubleheader. Shocker won a hurling duel from Walter Johnson in the first which went to the Yanks 3 to 2 but the Senators batted out 14 hits and won the second, 12 to 5.

The Indians rallied in the late innings and trounced the Tigers 11 to 6. Rhem lost his second game in 13 starts when the Pirates snapped out of their losing streak and beat St. Louis 7 to 3.

The Cubs nosed out the Reds in the 11th inning, 2 to 1. Three pitchers toiled for the winners and yielded only seven hits.

Greenfield held the Robins safe and the Giants won from Jess Petty 5 to 3. The Red Sox called upon five pitchers to take a wild one from the Athletics 10 to 5.

The Browns came from behind in the eighth and ninth and won the first game of the series from the White Sox 4 to 3.

Rallying in the ninth inning the Colonels downed the Hens by a 5 to 4 count.

With Kolp in great form the Saints took the third game of the series from the Blues, 3 to 2.

The Senators cut short a ninth inning rally of the Indians and won their 14th game of the season, 7 to 6. Rain at Minneapolis prevented the Brewers and Millers mixing.

The Y. M. C. A. cinched the championship of the first half of the city league by winning a well-played game from the B. A. C. last night, the score being 3 to 2. This game ended the first half schedule. The N. E. team and the Seals will play off their tie game tonight.

The second half will start about a week from Monday. The teams are getting well seasoned and a better brand of baseball for the second half is promised.

MANDELL IS TO MEET ROCKY KANSAS

Chicago, July 2.—(UP)—Sammy Mandell, challenger for the lightweight boxing title, has more to look forward to than his fight here tomorrow with Rocky Kansas, title holder. After the clash with Kansas is over, Mandell plans to be married to Miss Elizabeth Hemming of Rockford, Ill., his home. Sammy and his bride are said to have been sweethearts for some time.

Despite his forthcoming marriage Mandell made it plain that he does not intend to retire from the ring after the engagement with Kansas. He wants to meet all the challengers including Sid Terris, Ace Hudkins and Billy Petrolle.

Kansas and Mandell are trained down to within the 135 pound limit and are taking things as easy as possible from now until the gong. Betting odds are about even but the challenger will enter the ring with the bulk of local sympathy with him.

Fitch
takes the

out of Shampoo

OH, BOY! There's a delightful, refreshing, cleansing kick in a FITCH SHAMPOO! The Fitch Shampoo dissolves and removes from the very first application every particle of dandruff and foreign matter, leaving the scalp clean and healthy and the hair soft and fluffy.

The tonic in the Fitch Shampoo actually penetrates into every hair follicle, thereby invigorating the growth of hair. The lather is then gradually created by the application of water and, when rubbed out and rinsed, the lather carries with it all dirt, dandruff and foreign matter, leaving every pore open and functioning as nature intended.

Know the joy of a really clean scalp. Make your next shampoo a Fitch. Buy a bottle at any toilet goods counter or write the F. W. Fitch Co., Des Moines, Ia., for free trial bottle. If Fitch's isn't all we say, take it back and your money will be refunded.

MANDELL IS TO MEET ROCKY KANSAS

Chicago, July 2.—(UP)—Sammy
Mandell, challenger for the lightweight boxing title, has more to look forward to than his fight here tomorrow with Rocky Kansas, title holder.

After the clash with Kansas is over, Mandell plans to be married to Miss Elizabeth Hemming of Rockford, Ill., his home. Sammy and his bride are said to have been sweethearts for some time.

Despite his forthcoming marriage
Mandell made it plain that he does not intend to retire from the ring
after the engagement with Kansas.
He wants to meet all the challengers including Sid Terris, Ace Hudkins and Billy Petrolle.

Kansas and Mandell are trained down to within the 135 pound limit and are taking things as easy as possible from now until the gong.
Betting odds are about even but the challenger will enter the ring with the bulk of local sympathy with him.

Fitch
takes the Sham
out of Shampoo

OH, BOY! There's a delightful, refreshing, cleansing kick in a FITCH SHAMPOO! The Fitch Shampoo dissolves and removes from the very first application every particle of dandruff and foreign matter, leaving the scalp clean and healthy and the hair soft and fluffy.

The tonic in the Fitch Shampoo actually penetrates into every hair follicle, thereby invigorating the growth of hair. The lather is then gradually created by the application of water and, when rubbed out and rinsed, the lather carries with it all dirt, dandruff and foreign matter, leaving every pore open and functioning as nature intended.

Know the joy of a really clean scalp. Make your next shampoo a Fitch. Buy a bottle at any toilet goods counter or write the F. W. Fitch Co., Des Moines, Ia., for free trial bottle. If Fitch's isn't all we say, take it back and your money will be refunded.

HIGHWAYS ARE IN FAIR SHAPE

Motorists planning trips for the Saturday-Monday holiday period will find the Minnesota trunk highways nearly all good, according to the weekly condition report issued today. Even in continued rain, motorists can depend on finding the trunk highways fair or better, except a stretch on No. 11 east of International Falls, which is under construction. Signs will be posted at Virginia and International Falls if this road becomes impassable. The sections of No. 3 between Winona and Wabasha, which were closed last week, due to construction, are open to light traffic. The rock slide on No. 1 beyond Two Harbors has been cleared away.

Detailed reports covering conditions of the so-called "Babeck roads" marked with the official yellow star, follow, insofar as they refer to the Brainerd Lake Region:

"SANDE" We Modern Skirts Smart and Stylish

These little short skirts, made from high shades of wool flannel, make a most attractive and smart costume when worn with a tailored blouse or a sweater. They are so good looking for sport, or picnic, or any outing wear.

The ones we have, made by the Sande Co., are the correct skirt to have. The material is so good, they are cut properly, so that the plaits come just right. Finish with a Roman stripe belt, which sets the skirt off just right. A cute hip pocket to hold a small kerchief makes a skirt which is the best of all.

CARL ADAMS

Brainerd Postmaster, Commander-Elect of the new Nelson A. Miles Camp of Spanish War Veterans

made special commissioner of President Coolidge in the Philippine Island.

Already the Nelson A. Miles Camp of the district has a membership of 31 Spanish War veterans who joined the forces of the United States army in different states and saw active service.

Commander Carl Adams feels confident that the membership will grow as the organization continues.

"The feeling in the national organization of the Spanish War Veterans" stated Mr. Koch to the Dispatch today, "is that they are the natural successors to the Grand Army. The Spanish War Veterans of 1898, those who seen service in the Philippine Insurrection, and the Boxer Rebellion are taking up the work. We are being aided by the American Legion who are cooperating splendidly with us in the work. We are all veterans, one for all, and all for one. By putting a camp into Brainerd, we are strengthening the chain with another fraternal link."

"We would like to have the next encampment at Brainerd in 1927," said Mr. Koch, "if we could receive the cooperation of local civic organizations. Should Brainerd make the bid for the encampment next year they would undoubtedly be given preference for Brainerd is located in the ideal spot for an encampment. There would be about 600 veterans and their families in attendance."

"The encampment this year takes place for the State organization at Hibbing on July 11, 12, 13, while the national encampment takes place at Des Moines, Ia., on August 15, 16, 17, 18. Our organization has camps throughout the entire United States, Panama Canal region, Alaska, Philippines, and Hawaiian Islands."

The district organization which includes Cass, Crow Wing, Morrison, Aitkin, Mille Lac counties, has the following members with their regiments as can be learned today:

Carl Adams, 52nd of Iowa; Ser-

mended for sanatorium care. Tonsil cases, bad teeth and many other diseased conditions are found that people sometimes fail to mention to the family physician or else have not consulted him about at all.

The early discovery of diseased conditions, particularly pulmonary tuberculosis, means half the cure or more. If you have tuberculosis in the first stage it means a short stay in the institution for you; if you neglect this important early examination you may become an advanced case before you realize it which will mean years in the sanatorium instead of months with perhaps not such good results as we get with the early case.

The clinics are held as follows: Aitkin county at Aitkin courthouse, Aitkin, every third Saturday of the month from 10 to 12 a. m. in the county surveyor's office or some adjacent rooms. Other clinics to be held in Aitkin county during the summer months will be advertised in the county papers.

Crow Wing county at Brainerd, every second Saturday of the month from 10 to 12 a. m. in the county nurse's office, court house at Brainerd. Crosby, every fourth Saturday of the month from 10 to 12 a. m. in the armory. Other clinics to be held in Crow Wing county during the summer months will be advertised in the county papers.

If you are unable to attend the clinics for any reason, call the sanatorium for special appointment. If you desire any information about the clinics call the sanatorium.

Even in continued rain, motorists can depend on finding the trunk highways fair or better, except a stretch on No. 11 east of International Falls, which is under construction. Signs will be posted at Virginia and International Falls if this road becomes impassable. The sections of No. 3 between Winona and Wabasha, which were closed last week, due to construction, are open to light traffic. The rock slide on No. 1 beyond Two Harbors has been cleared away.

Detailed reports covering conditions of the so-called "Babeck roads" marked with the official yellow star, follow, insofar as they refer to the Brainerd Lake Region:

"SANDE" We Modern Skirts Smart and Stylish

These little short skirts, made from high shades of wool flannel, make a most attractive and smart costume when worn with a tailored blouse or a sweater. They are so good looking for sport, or picnic, or any outing wear.

The ones we have, made by the Sande Co., are the correct skirt to have. The material is so good, they are cut properly, so that the plaits come just right. Finished with a Roman stripe belt, which sets the skirt off just right. A cute big pocket to hold a small kerchief makes a skirt which is the best of all.

CARL ADAMS

made special commissioner of President Coolidge in the Philippine Islands.

Already the Nelson A. Miles Camp of the district has a membership of 31 Spanish War veterans who joined the forces of the United States army in different states and saw active service.

Commander Carl Adams feels confident that the membership will grow as the organization continues.

"The feeling in the national organization of the Spanish War Veterans," stated Mr. Koch to the Dispatch today, "is that they are the natural successors to the Grand Army. The Spanish War Veterans of 1898, those who seen service in the Philippine Insurrection, and the Boxer Rebellion are taking up the work. We are being aided by the American Legion who are cooperating splendidly with us in the work. We are all veterans, one for all, and all for one. By putting a camp into Brainerd, we are strengthening the chain with another fraternal link."

"We would like to have the next encampment at Brainerd in 1927," said Mr. Koch, "if we could receive the cooperation of local civic organizations. Should Brainerd make the bid for the encampment next year they would undoubtedly be given preference for Brainerd is located in the ideal spot for an encampment. There would be about 600 veterans and their families in attendance."

"The encampment this year takes place for the State organization at Hibbing on July 11, 12, 13, while the national encampment takes place at Des Moines, Ia., on August 15, 16, 17, 18. Our organization has camps throughout the entire United States, Panama Canal region, Alaska, Philippines, and Hawaiian Islands."

The district organization which includes Cass, Crow Wing, Morrison, Aitkin, Miller Lac counties, has the following members with their regiments as can be learned today: Carl Adams, 52nd of Iowa; Sermended for sanatorium care. Tonsil cases, bad teeth and many other diseased conditions are found that people sometimes fail to mention to the family physician or else have not consulted him about at all.

The early discovery of diseased conditions, particularly pulmonary tuberculosis, means half the cure or more. If you have tuberculosis in the first stage it means a short stay in the institution for you; if you neglect this important early examination you may become an advanced case before you realize it which will mean years in the sanatorium instead of months with perhaps not such good results as we get with the early case.

The clinics are held as follows:

Aitkin county at Aitkin courthouse, Aitkin, every third Saturday of the month from 10 to 12 a. m. In the county surveyor's office or some adjacent rooms. Other clinics to be held in Aitkin county during the summer months will be advertised in the county papers.

Crow Wing county at Brainerd, every second Saturday of the month from 10 to 12 a. m. in the county nurse's office, court house at Brainerd. Crosby, every fourth Saturday of the month from 10 to 12 a. m. in the armory. Other clinics to be held in Crow Wing county during the summer months will be advertised in the county papers.

If you are unable to attend the clinics for any reason, call the sanatorium for special appointment. If you desire any information about the clinics call the sanatorium.

Supt. Deerwood Sanatorium

Artistry in Well Doing

A great deal of the joy of life consists in doing perfectly—or at least to the best of one's ability—everything he attempts to do. It is this conscientious completeness which turns work into art. The smallest thing well done becomes artistic.—William Matthews.

 "You are on the unpopular side. I felt sorry for you on account of the votes that speech will cause you to lose."—Washington Star.

The Important Consideration

"We are with you to a man," declared the enthusiastic constituent.
 "That's all right as far as it goes," answered Senator Sorghum. "But how about the woman voters?"—Washington Star.

How It Happened

"Yes, Margaret has three children."
 "And she used to declare that she'd never have more than one."
 "I know, but they all came at once."

Question for Question

He—Are you willing to make ples like mother used to make?

STEEL COMMON SHOWS STRENGTH

New York, July 2.—(UP)—Constructive forces were in complete control of the market in the pre-holiday session. Steel common developed power to attain a further new high, when substantial advances occurred in other

Rails were comparatively quiet. The market closed higher.

4 YEAR OLD GIRL LOST TWO DAYS IN NORTH WOODS

Park Rapids, Minn., July 2.—(UP)—Unharmed and unafraid despite her two days alone in the woods, Esther Bittman, aged four years, who was lost near Two Miles lake Wednesday, was discovered by searching parties today.

The child was found not far from the spot from which she disappeared Wednesday morning, slipping away from two older brothers while they were fishing.

Only her mother, Mrs. Frank Bittman, had not given up hope that the little girl would be found alive.

Discovery of the child ended an all night hunt by 300 Indians, forest rangers, boy scouts, policemen, firemen and woodsmen who worked in two shifts, using torchlights and lanterns in beating the woods for her.

Before the successful end of the search, it had been planned to enlist the help of Indian trailers from the White Earth reservation and bloodhounds from Fargo, N. D.

SENATE PASSES DILL MEASURE

ESTABLISHES COMMISSION TO REGULATE RADIO BROADCASTING

Washington, July 2.—(UP)—The senate today passed the Dill bill establishing a commission to regulate radio broadcasting.

The measure now goes to conference where a bitter fight which probably precludes any hope of final passage at this session of congress is expected.

The bill establishes a commission of five members at a salary of $10,000 a year to "control the air."

The senate defeated almost unanimously an amendment by Blaine of South Carolina to prohibit broadcasting of speeches discussing evolution.

Beaver Meat Palatable

The body meat of the beaver has rather a gamy flavor, but if properly cared for and cooked is excellent, and was generally preferred by trappers to any other game, even in the early days when buffalo, elk and deer were abundant. The tail is fatty tissue, very rich and palatable, and considered a great delicacy.

U. S. STEEL IN RECORD HIGH PRICE

New York, July 2.—(UP)—United States Steel sold at 144½ on the New York Stock exchange during the first hour of trading today, setting a new record high price.

STEEL COMMON SHOWS STRENGTH

New York, July 2.—(UP)—Constructive forces were in complete control of the market in the pre-holiday session. Steel common developed power to attain a further new high, when substantial advances occurred in other industrials including General Motors, Allied Chemical, American Smelting and Texas Gulf.

Rails were comparatively quiet. The market closed higher.

4 YEAR OLD GIRL LOST TWO DAYS IN NORTH WOODS

Park Rapids, Minn., July 2.—(UP)—Unharmed and unafraid despite her two days alone in the woods, Esther Bittman, aged four years, who was lost near Two Miles lake Wednesday, was discovered by searching parties today.

The child was found not far from the spot from which she disappeared Wednesday morning, slipping away from two older brothers while they were fishing.

Only her mother, Mrs. Frank Bittman, had not given up hope that the little girl would be found alive.

Discovery of the child ended an all night hunt by 300 Indians, forest rangers, boy scouts, policemen, firemen and woodsmen who worked in two shifts, using torchlights and lanterns in beating the woods for her.

Before the successful end of the search, it had been planned to enlist the help of Indian trailers from the White Earth reservation and bloodhounds from Fargo, N. D.

SENATE PASSES DILL MEASURE

ESTABLISHES COMMISSION TO REGULATE RADIO BROADCASTING

Washington, July 2.—(UP)—The senate today passed the Dill bill establishing a commission to regulate radio broadcasting.

The measure now goes to conference where a bitter fight which probably precludes any hope of final passage at this session of congress is expected.

The bill establishes a commission of five members at a salary of $10,000 a year to "control the air."

The senate defeated almost unanimously an amendment by Blaine of South Carolina to prohibit broadcasting of speeches discussing evolution.

Beaver Meat Palatable

The body meat of the beaver has rather a gamy flavor, but if properly cured and cooked is excellent, and was generally preferred by trappers to any other game, even in the early days when buffalo, elk and deer were abundant. The tail is fatty tissue, very rich and palatable, and considered a great delicacy.
